DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

Applicant should note that the large number of references in the attached IDS have been considered by the examiner in the same manner as other documents in Office search files are considered by the examiner while conducting a search of the prior art in a proper field of search. See MPEP 609.05(b). Applicant is requested to point out any particular references in the IDS which they believe may be of particular relevance to the instant claimed invention in response to this office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,2,7,9-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boyd et al. (5425773) in view of Erickson et al. (6368350). Fig. 6 shows a disc implant 110 having two plates and two inner members positioned between the two plates. It can be seen the plates have concave surfaces to complement the surfaces of the inner members and sides to retain the inner members between the plates. The inner members are configured with a convex portion 146 and a concave portion 126 to allow lateral movement, anteroposterior movement and axial rotation of the plates about the complementary surfaces. Boyd also shows that the plates can include coupling projections 92. However, Boyd et al. fail to teach the inner member being substantially circular in shape. Erickson et al. teach (Figs. 4,4A) an inner member having a circular shape. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the shapes of inner members to be circular as taught by Erickson et al. with the implant of Boyd et al. since such a modification only involves routine skill in the art and shapes of the structures are not critical as to the design of operating structure to support the spine as taught by Erickson, col. 6, lines 30-35.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
